Sunday's Sermon: Matthew 1:21-25

Newletters:

Steve and Lindsey Bilimek, missionaries to Indonesia that we support, sent a nice card that you can read at the Mission Center. Along with the Bilimeks card is the latest newsletter from Laurel Missions.

Save the Date:

Communion will be served on Sunday, December 22. We serve an open communion which means you do not need to be a member of the WCC, but you do need to have asked Jesus into your heart.

Last Call:

The second draft of the church directory is at the Information Center. If you would like to include any other information, there is still time. The final draft will be printed and ready by the beginning of the new year.

A New Year:

January is a new start to a new year. Many resolutions are made and broken. We as a church will begin a new sermon series focusing on the claims of Christ. This series will last for three weeks.

Let's Talk:

A date in January will be announced for a congregational meeting. It will take place after the service and there will be no Sunday School.

Yummy News:

There will be a breakfast following the worship service as a way to close out the year and look forward to the new year. This would be in place of the 5th Sunday donuts. More details will be shared once they are available.

Calendars:

If you are interested in a calendar from a local funeral home, there are a few remaining at the Mission Center. They appear to be going quickly, so make sure you get your calendar Sunday.

What's Next:

The church has a few projects that it would like to accomplish. Kitchen remodel, classrooms and offices moved upstairs, and a pavilion. Please pray about and share your opinions with the SLT. These are exciting days for the WestSide Community!

Let's Pray:

- New faces and families to begin attending WCC.
- Steve and Lindsey Bilimek (MAF) Mission Aviation Fellowship
- Jeff and Shauna Spence (Serving in Taiwan)
